Bank Installs New Vault-New Dentist to Locate Here-Mr. Lyon Buys Store Building.

Mrs. Hannah White of Northfield fell one day last week and fractured her right wrist. She is being cared for at the home of her grandson, Albert Potter.

Frank Gadwood has received from the conservation commission a number of blank applications for pheasant's eggs. Anyone willing to fill out a blank may receive the form at the Royal cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. James Chambers, who live on the river road, town of Hamden, were called to New York city the first of the week by the critical illness of their son, Bruce Chambers, who is suffering with pneumonia.

The Breakstone company has been unable the past two weeks to drive teams between Downsville and Walton and the product from the Downston and the cream from the Downsville plant has been shipped by express each day to the Walton plant.

Word has been received in Walton of the death of Mrs. Betty McFadden in San Jose, California, on Jan. 12. Mrs. McFadden, who was 78 years of age, was the widow of the late Archie McFadden. The family were at one time residents of the town of Hamden.

The Daggett house on lower Liberty street has been sold to George M. Parker. Silas Forsythe has sold his farm in Frear Hollow to A. J. Lee. Hugh Rutherford has bought the Lyon house, Marvin avenue. The sales were made through the agency of H. M. Robinson.

The American Legion base ball team defeated the Kayser mill indoor nine in the armory Wednesday evening by a score of 24 to 12. The game was fairly even until the seventh inning when the Legion scored ten runs. Oles pitched for the Legion and North for the Kayser mill.

The new vault for the First National Bank has arrived and experts of the Mosler Safe company are installing the same. The concrete work was put in some weeks ago. The vault is fireproof and burglar proof and its installation is in line with the progressive policy of the bank.

Frank G. Lyon on Wednesday bought of W. S. Whitcomb the store building at the corner of Delaware and North streets, which he has occupied as a furniture store the past eight years. Mr. Lyon purchased the furniture business of Mr. Whitcomb in March, 1912, and has established a reputation for fair dealing. His stock of furniture is up-to-date and he has one of the most complete lines of furniture in this section.

Dr. E. Ogden Bush, who has been associated with Dr. E. J. Doran of Buffalo, will open a dental office in the Seeley block, corner of Bridge and Delaware streets, Walton, about Mar. 1. Dr. Bush, who is a graduate of the University of Buffalo, dental department, has had the advantage of a special course in conductive anesthesia and extraction under Buffalo's leading oral surgeon, Dr. C. E. Rose. Dr. Bush is a former Delancey boy, being a son of Mrs. Anna Y. Bush of that place.

The Company I basket ball team played at Roscoe Friday evening and were defeated by a score of 27-22. The game was a tie at the end of the second half but in the five minutes of extra time the Roscoe boys outplayed their opponents. The same evening the Walton high school girls defeated the Sidney high school girls at Sidney by a score of 43 to 11. The Downsville town team will play Co. I in the armory tonight, Friday, and at the same time the Downsville high school girls will play the Walton girls team.

Arthur J. Courtney has sold his store building at West End and the house adjoining to James Pangaro for $7,750. The store, which was formerly occupied by Mr. Courtney, is now rented by Ernest W. Baxter and Budine's market. Mr. Pangaro purchases the property as an investment. About $6,000 of the purchase price was paid in cash and represented Mr. Pangaro's savings of twenty years as a section employee on the Ontario & Western, never at a greater wage than $3 a day. Mr. Pangaro has a wife and ten children. He has never been to a movie or attended an entertainment in Walton Hall.

Rev. C. F., Robson, field secretary of the Near East Relief, was in Walton last Thursday while engaged in perfecting an organization in Delaware county. Mr. Robson, who has his headquarters in Catskill, has charge of the counties of Columbia, Delaware, Greene, Otsego and Schoharie. Robert B. St. John will act as county treasurer for the fund and Frank Farrington of Delhi as county chairman. Money raised for the fund will be used in relief work in Armenia, Syria, Palestine, Persia and Mesopotamia. Estimates show that there are at least 1,200,000 destitute adults, 250,000 orphaned children and 100,000 women released from bondage who will perish unless support from America is continued.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM IN INFLUENZA CASES

Health Authorities Take Steps to Check Spread of Disease.

MOST CASES IN MILD FORM

Physicians State Number
Does Not Greatly Exceed Usual Amount of Colds and Grippe.

Walton physicians state that there are seventy-five or more cases of influenza in Walton. Few are seriously ill and only one case of pneumonia had developed up to Thursday. No cases were reported to the health officer before Tuesday, when twelve, were reported, but each day since has seen a large number of new cases.

The instructions issued by Dr. E. A. Hand, the village health officer, on the prevention of influenza and the care of influenza patients will be found in another column.

One physician states that while he has a large number of influenza cases the number does not exceed the usual illness from colds and grippe at this season of the year when such a wide variation of temperature is found from day to day. As an instance of this change of temperature, which causes many colds, there was a change of fifty degrees in temperature from Monday, when the thermometer was 20 below, to Tuesday when it was about 30 above. Thursday morning, the thermometer was down to 10 below again.

There are as many cases of influenza in the town outside the village, in proportion to population, as in the corporation limits. In New York the epidemic has appeared in a severe form with about 3,000 new cases reported daily.

On account of the rapid spread of the disease when once it starts it has been thought best to ask for the names of those who would be willing to act as volunteers should the need arise as it did in 1918, and all who would be willing to render such service are asked to meet at the office of Miss McNeilly, public health nurse, at 3 o'clock on Saturday. It is hoped there will be no epidemic in Walton, but we should be prepared to meet it if it comes.

No new cases of scarlet fever have been reported the past week. Dr. Hand succeeded in tracing the source of infection to a family who moved here from another town where one of the children had suffered from the disease but in such a mild form that no physician was called. The seventh grade of the Stockton avenue school, which was closed on account of the illness of the teacher, Mrs. Elizabeth McMullin, has been reopened with a substitute teacher in charge.

The report of Dr. E. S. Godfrey, epidemiologist in the state department of health, who was sent to Chicago to study the prevailing epidemic of influenza, was received Monday by state commissioner of health, Herman M. Biggs. Dr. Godfrey stated that the vast majority of cases of influenza are of a mild type and the duration of the disease is a short one and not usually followed by complications. Interspersed with the mild cases, however, are a number which do not differ in character from those severe cases which occurred so frequently during the great epidemic in 1918. These, as far as it could be learned, were in persons who did not suffer from the disease last year, an evidence insofar as it goes, of the existence of immunity against the virulent type of influenza in those who have previously suffered from it.

The conditions in Chicago do not differ essentially from those officially reported from New York city. Dr. Biggs stated that at the present time, except for the occurrence of the comparatively small number of severe types of cases, there is no reason to regard the present prevalence of winter colds, which are frequently followed by pneumonia, as differing in extent and character from those which annually occur at this season.

A brief study of the figures available for January of the number of pneumonia deaths in New York city shows that for the first 25 days of January they are not higher than those occurring in 1917 and previous winters.

The commissioner has requested all health officers throughout the state to send in telegraphic reports of pneumonia cases occurring within their jurisdiction, believing that in this way an estimate may be made of the general condition of affairs in regard to the severity of respiratory diseases throughout the state, the reports of influenza which come to the department giving very little information on this point.

Dr. Biggs stated that there is little to be added to the advice which has so frequently been urged, that persons suffering from acute colds with fever, pains in the bones and general prostration, should whenever possible go immediately to bed and remain there until well. The diet should be fluid or semi-fluid and the bowels should be opened freely. There is at the present time no known preventive of influenza-either mild or severe, by vaccines, serums or drugs. Insofar as possible, persons at this season of the year should avoid crowds, should not expose themselves to drafts, should keep their feet warm and dry and should protect themselves by keeping away from those who are coughing and sneezing, which acts should always be guarded by placing the handkerchief or hand before the nose and mouth.

WANT CENSUS COUNT TO BE COMPLETE

Any Who Have Been Missed
Should Report Facts.

FIGURES OF PAST CENSUSES

County Showed Decline in 1915 From Enumeration
Taken in 1900 but Walton
Showed Growth.

On account of the difficulty experienced by many of the census enumerators in completing their work within the time prescribed because of weather conditions an extension of fifteen days has been granted where necessary in order that the work may be finished. In the villages the work was supposed to be completed by Jan. 15 and in the rural districts before Feb. 1.

A complete count is desired and where anyone has been missed by the census taker he should report that fact to the local enumerator or to W. H. Riley, district supervisor, in Binghamton.

Vincent N. Elwood of Hancock has been in Walton checking up the returns here. It is probable that a few names have been skipped and in the villages the returns are checked up as far as possible.

The federal census of 1910 gave the village of Walton a population of 3,103 and the state census in 1915 a population of 3,606. The entire town had a population of 5,088 in 1910 and of 5,275 in 1915.

The population of the county in 1915 was given as 45,995; in 1910, 45,575; 1905, 46,788; 1900, 46,413; 1890, 45,496; 1876, 42,054.

It is stated the enumerators in villages are allowed a compensation of four cents a name and in the country $2 a day, 30 cents for each farm listed and four cents for each name. In the state census of 1892 the enumerators were paid $2 a day.

ROXBURY TAX CASE

U. & D. Railroad Objects to Return Filed by Assessors.

By the decision of Justice McCann, previously rendered in the case of the Ulster & Delaware railroad company, relators, against the assessors of the town of Roxbury, the issues in the case were limited to the question of the over-valuation of the railroad company's property. Pursuant to this opinion the assessors last week filed a return, including in this return a transcript from the assessment roll of the relator's assessment. The attorneys of the railroad company objected to the return and on Saturday of last week made a motion before Justice McCann at Elmira to compel the assessors to file a copy of the entire assessment roll. On the return of the motion the judge held that there were but two questions in the case, namely, the amount of the assessment and what is the full value of the railroad's property in the town of Roxbury.

Unless a referee can be agreed upon by the contesting parties, Justice McCann will appoint either Judge Sewell or Judge Lyon, who are official referees. The railroad company was represented by Judge Grant and the assessors by Ives and Crait with C. R. O'Connor as counsel. - Stamford Mirror.

FACTORY ROOF COLLAPSES

Arkville Acid Plant Will Probably be Abandoned.

(From Arkville cor.)

Under the weight of an 18-inch covering of snow the roof of the acid factory at Arkville collapsed Tuesday for the second time in five years. It will probably never be rebuilt as for some time past now the Luzerne company has been shipping machinery from the plant to points in the state, and plants in Pennsylvania. The state road contractor has stored equipment there and Mr. Lawrence, who is in charge here, and several men, were on top cleaning the snow off when the structure gave way beneath them. They escaped injury by jumping. No one was inside the structure, as it had shown signs of weakness soon after the warm spell set in and this had prompted them to go out and relieve the pressure on the big roof. The place is a heap of wreckage, only the vat section and part of the coal shed standing.

FINISH KAYSER MILL DURING SUMMER

Company Now Employs 260
in Walton Factory.

HOUSING QUESTION SERIOUS

Homes Must Be Furnished for Four Hundred Additional Employees of the Company.

The new silk mill of Julius Kayser & Company, located at the foot of William Street, Walton, will not be ready for spring occupancy as the company officials had hoped when construction was started in October. It is believed now that the building will be completed in July or August.

The building is a one-story brick structure erected in the shape of the letter H. The two wings are parallel to William street and are 353 feet in length and 50 feet wide and will be connected by a building 100 feet long and 50 feet wide in which will be located the offices and vault for the storage of the silks.

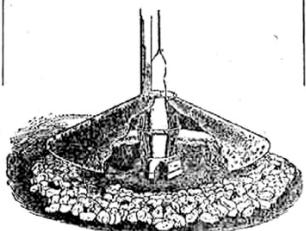

M. D. Bennett of Sidney, the contractor has been handicapped in the work by the severe cold weather of the past month. The brickwork on the eastern wing, however, has been completed and the roof put on. On the other wing the brickwork is about three-fourths completed. The smoke stack to the boiler room was finished last week but no work has yet been done on the boiler room and the connecting section of the main building. The plumbing and electrical work will be done later. F. C. Darling of Walton has the sub-contract for the plumbing.

The Kayser company is now giving employment to about 260 men and women in its Walton mill in the Munn building, Delaware street. When the new building is completed it is expected to employ about 800. Of this number about 150 will be in the weaving department.

One serious question confronting the village is the housing problem. Every house in the village is inhabited and it is difficult to secure room and board. With the present costs of construction there is little inducement to private capital to build houses for investment purposes as rents would have to be much higher than are now being paid here to secure a

HUSBAND AND WIFE DIE

Deaths of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mitchell from Pneumonia Occur Same Day.

(From Masonville cor.)

On Friday last Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Matteson of Masonville received a telegram from New York stating that their son-in-law, Vincent Mitchell, had died from pneumonia, following an attack of influenza, and that his wife was very low. Another telegram was received stating that Mrs. Mitchell died the same night at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Matteson left on the early train Saturday morning for New York. The double funeral was held there on Sunday. Mr. Matteson is in poor health and was unable to attend the funerals. Mrs. Mitchell was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Matteson and has many friends in Masonville. They leave two small children.

AGED MURDERER PARDONED

Henry B. Ward, Who Killed Daughter-in-law, Freed by Governor.

Henry B. Ward, the aged Garretttsville man who was sentenced to life imprisonment in 1915 for the killing of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Thomas Ward, has been pardoned by Gov. Smith. At the time of his sentence he was 84 years of age and is now in his 89th year.

According to the story told by Ward at the time of the trial, Mrs. Thomas Ward and himself had quarreled in the morning of the day of the murder and the former had attacked him with a pitchfork and had chased him into his bedroom. He had shut the door to prevent her entering and she had shouted to him that if he came out she would kill him with a flatiron. He then opened the door and shot her with a shot gun which he kept in his room.

WALTON MAN KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Everett Fisher Fell Under Wheels While Crossing Yards

BODY WAS BADLY MANGLED

Watch and Odd Fellow Emblem Lead to Identification—Went to Binghamton Previous Day.

Everett Fisher, who has been employed by the Beerston Acetate company on a lumber job on West Trout brook, was killed in Binghamton early Tuesday morning by a Lackawanna freight train. He was 38 years of age.

Fisher was employed last summer on construction work at the Y. M. C. A. in Binghamton. Recently he has been working with his father, Elmer Fisher, on the Thayer wood lot on Bear Spring mountain, at the head of West Trout brook. He left Beerston Monday for Binghamton, going by way of Hancock, and expected to secure work in the city.

Tuesday afternoon Frank T. Ives, outside foreman of the Beerston acid factory, received a telephone call from Coroner F. J. Hitchcock of Binghamton stating that a man had been killed in that city whose watch bore the initials E. F. and on whose body was found a letter addressed to Box 34, East Branch. Wednesday morning Mr. Ives and Elmer Fisher went to Binghamton, where they identified the body as that of Everett Fisher and brought the remains home on the Utica flyer that evening.

From the facts gathered by Coroner Hitchcock it appears that Everett Fisher had been to the Erie station where he purchased a ticket. The body was badly mutilated and the name of the station on the ticket could not be deciphered. The train which he expected to take had gone and it is believed that Fisher attempted to cross through the railroad yards to the hotel near the Lackawanna station. He was seen by the flagman on Lackawanna freight train 1174 as he started to climb between the cars of that train. Just then the train started and in some way Fisher fell between the wheels and his life was crushed out. The body was terribly mangled and there was little on the body to lead to identification. Fisher was an Odd Fellow and the Binghamton lodge, when informed of the man's death and the fact that an Odd Fellow emblem had been found on the body, made every effort possible to ascertain his identity. The letter containing the address Box 34, East Branch, was badly torn and the writing nearly effaced.

Mr. Fisher's father, Elmer Fisher, happened to be at Beerston when Mr. Ives was called and from the fact that Everett Fisher had gone to Binghamton Monday and that the description of the watch corresponded to that worn by his son, it appeared certain that he was the victim of the accident. Mr. Fisher and Mr. Ives went to Binghamton Wednesday and identified the body. It is believed that Everett Fisher had purchased a ticket to Hancock to return home and as the train he expected to take had gone he was returning to his hotel when killed.

Everett Fisher was 38 years of age and is survived by his wife and one child, living near Arkville; by two brothers, two sisters, his father, Elmer Fisher and stepmother.

The funeral will be held today, Friday, in Holmes chapel at 11 a.m. conducted by Rev. C. A. Hubbell cemetery.

BURNED SIXTY-FIVE CHICKENS

Overtured Oil Heater Causes Fire Which Destroys Coop.

(Livingston Manor cor.)

A blaze in the chicken house of Fremont Misner in Jacktown, near Livingston Manor, called out the fire company early Sunday afternoon. The coop was a good sized one and located near Mr. Misner's house, so that the firemen had to put forth some effort to keep the latter building from igniting. Sixty-five chickens were burned to death. Mr. Misner had put a kerosene heater in the building in the morning and it is probable it was overturned.

CABOOSE WENT DOWN BANK

Trainmen Jumped and Escaped Injury When D. & N. Car Left Rails.

(From East Branch cor.)

When the way freight on the D. & N. railroad was enroute to East Branch Tuesday night, at the Rock Eddy just above Pepacton, the caboose and trucks of one car were derailed.

The caboose went down the embankment and landed right side up. There was only one passenger and fortunately he and the trainmen jumped just in time to escape. Wm. Vernold, one of the brakemen, jumped in the same direction as the caboose went and came near being pinned underneath the car.

The rails were spread at this point, which caused the accident.

There were 112 votes cast of which 76 were for the proposition and 35 against. As soon as spring comes this work will commence. The street will be widened to a three rod road and sidewalks laid upon Read side of the street.

AGED MAN HANGED HIMSELF

David McChesney Ends Life in Middletown Home.

The dead body of David McChesney was found in his home in Middletown last Sunday afternoon by Frank Emerick, a friend, who had come to call on the aged man. McChesney had ended his life by hanging himself in the pantry of his house.

Mr. McChesney was 73 years of age, a Civil War veteran and formerly lived in Callicoon. His wife died last October and he has often spoken since of his loneliness. John H. McChesney, a son, lives in Brooklyn, and another son, Frank, disappeared two years ago and has not been heard from since. Mrs. Frank McChesney and her two children, Vernon and Jessie, live at Fremont Center.

TEAM KILLED BY TRAIN

Bohlmann's Horse Caught Foot Between Rail and Plank.

While H. A. Bohlmann, who lives on Franklin mountain, near Otego, was returning Saturday from Oneonta, where he had been peddling meat, the team which he was driving was struck by a D. & H. passenger train and both horses killed.

At the crossing near Otego one of the horses caught its foot between a rail and the crossing plank and was held there. Before Mr. Bohlmann could free the animal the train came along and killed both horses.

Stole $130 of Cigarettes.

The wholesale grocery of J. O. & G. N. Rowe in Oneonta was broken into Sunday morning and about $130 of Camel cigarettes were stolen.

A young man, who gave his name as Arthur Scott of Philadelphia, was arrested at Schuyler Lake Sunday afternoon but that night managed to escape from the jail at Richfield Springs, where he was lodged. He was captured later by Officer Barney Dickinson at Cedarville to which place he had walked. The man was held for the grand jury in Otsego county.

Mr. McLean made no public bequests but in his will he said: "As I have been in the habit of contributing to the different charities during my life, I trust that those who come after me and inherit my property, may freely give to good works as they have the means and opportunity to do."

Mr. McLean owned a beautiful summer home at South Kortright, where his boyhood days were spent.
