DEC and NYSERDA To Use Drones To Find Orphan Oil and Gas Wells

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) and Energy Research and Development Authority (NYSERDA) announced that New York is deploying state-of-the-art drone technology to help reduce climate-altering greenhouse gas emissions from aging and abandoned oil and gas infrastructure.

DEC and NYSERDA are using high-tech aerial surveillance equipment to locate and plug abandoned, decades-old oil and gas wells that leak methane into the environment. Ton for ton, methane is many times more potent than carbon dioxide as a greenhouse gas, and is second only to carbon dioxide in its overall contribution to climate change. Representing almost 10 percent of the state's annual greenhouse gas emissions, methane reduction is a key piece of New York's nation-leading policies to address the risks from climate change.

To support this effort, NYSERDA will invest up to $400,000 in custom-built drone equipment and instrumentation that will be used by DEC to detect the presence of abandoned oil and gas wells primarily located in Central and Western New York that may emit methane. These regions were drilled for oil and gas starting in the 19th Century before the State's stringent regulatory programs and often in remote locations. Although there is no definitive estimate of the total number of orphan oil and gas wells in New York State, DEC has located and assessed more than 2,000 of these wells to date by talking to local landowners, conducting research, and on-site ground searches. DEC's work on orphan wells in New York indicates that thousands of additional abandoned wells may continue to emit methane gas into the atmosphere.

The wells are difficult to spot during land-based field surveys. DEC will target areas to search for orphaned oil and gas wells by using old lease maps, information from local landowners, and other data that suggests where wells might be present. The specialized drones will fly over the landscape with equipment that reveals magnetic signals produced by the wells at specific GPS coordinates. Signal anomalies and other data will be used to create maps that DEC will use to identify locations for on-site visits to verify the presence of orphan wells. Once an abandoned well is identified, DEC will assess its risk to public safety and the environment and take appropriate measures to reduce leaking, fugitive methane emissions as part of the New York Works Well Plugging Initiative. Since 2014, DEC has plugged 340 orphaned oil and gas wells under this initiative.

Plugging abandoned wells is one of numerous steps Governor Andrew M. Cuomo has directed New York State to take to reduce methane emissions from landfills, new and existing oil and gas infrastructure, and agriculture, among other sources.

HOROSCOPES

ARIES - MAR 21/APR 20
Don't shy away from the issues that keep cropping up this week, Aries. They may cause a few headaches, but they also are making the days much more exciting.

LIBRA - SEPT 23/OCT 23
Libra, there might be a lot of activity going around you over the course of the week. Whether it's good or bad, you won't be directly involved in any of it.

TAURUS - APR 21/MAY 21
Taurus, many people like to live by the mantra "don't judge a book by its cover," but many times appearances matter. Don't regret picking out a nice outfit or a trendy restaurant.

GEMINI - MAY 22/JUN 21
Change may take you in unexpected directions this week, Gemini. The good news is that things are finally turning around for you. Enjoy this exciting time.

CANCER - JUN 22/JUL 22
Cancer, you may be drawn to people who appeal to your analytical side this week. You could be interested in some intellectual debate and need a worthy sparring partner.

LEO - JUL 23/AUG 23
Leo, if you see a chance to get ahead this week, jump on it. No matter what is involved or how inconvenient, you do not want to let this opportunity pass you by.

VIRGO - AUG 24/SEPT 22
There is much more clarity in your life this week, Virgo. It's almost as if a veil has been lifted or if your eyeglasses prescription has been fine-tuned.

SCORPIO - OCT 24/NOV 22
Exercise caution when sharing your secrets, Scorpio. Make sure others can be tight-lipped, as some people cannot resist passing on a little gossip here and there.

SAGITTARIUS - NOV 23/DEC 21
There is great harmony in your life right now and it's due mostly to the fact that you are working together with people both at home and at work. Keep up the collaborations.

CAPRICORN - DEC 22/JAN 20
Listen to people around you to get a fresh perspective on various components of life that you share. People may have good ideas and be willing to share their advice.

AQUARIUS - JAN 21/FEB 18
Aquarius, if you have been trying to become better acquainted with someone in your personal life or even at the office, pay attention to their body language. It can say a lot.

PISCES - FEB 19/MAR 20
Pisces, trust your heart this week and be honest with how you feel about situations. Not every decision has to be based on analysis. Trust your gut.

FAMOUS BIRTHDAYS - MARCH 21 Matthew Broderick, Actor (59) MARCH 22 JJ Watt, Athlete (32) MARCH 23 Brett Young, Singer (40) MARCH 24 Tommy Hilfiger, Designer (70) MARCH 25 Elton John, Singer (74) MARCH 26 Jonathan Groff, Actor (36) MARCH 27 Jessie J, Singer (33)

Reducing greenhouse gas emissions is a critical component of Governor Cuomo's nation-leading climate agenda, the most aggressive climate and clean energy initiative in the nation, calling for an orderly and just transition to clean energy that creates jobs and continues fostering a green economy as New York state recovers from the COVID-19 pandemic. Enshrined into law through the Climate Leadership and Community Protection Act, New York is also on a path to achieving its mandated goal of a zero-carbon emissions electricity sector by 2040, including 70 percent renewable energy generation by 2030, and to reach economy-wide carbon neutrality.
It builds on New York's unprecedented ramp-up of clean energy including a $3.9 billion investment in 67 large-scale renewable projects across the state, the creation of more than 150,000 jobs in New York's clean energy sector, a commitment to develop 9,000 megawatts of offshore wind by 2035, and 1,800 percent growth in the distributed solar sector since 2011. Under Governor Cuomo's leadership, New York will build on this progress and reduce greenhouse gas emissions by 85 percent from 1990 levels by 2050, while ensuring that at least 35 percent with a goal of 40 percent of the benefits of clean energy investments benefit disadvantaged communities, and advancing progress towards the state's 2025 energy efficiency target of reducing on-site energy consumption by 185 tBTUs. Earlier this year, the Governor also permanently banned hydraulic fracturing of natural gas in New York to further achieve the State's clean energy goals.
