Leap into leap year facts

Leap year typically takes place every four years. The process of adding a day to the calendar every four years was designed to realign the clock and calendar more closely with how long it takes the Earth to rotate around the sun, which is slightly longer than the 365 days attributed to a year. If not for Leap Year, the seasons would slowly shift out of place.

There are many interesting facts to learn about Leap Year, and Feb. 29 is the perfect time to explore them.

- It takes the Earth 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 45 seconds to circle once around the sun, says TimeandDate.com. Without leap years, we'd lose almost six hours every year. After a century, the calendar would be off by nearly 24 days.

- Despite 2100, the next turn of the century, being divisible by four, it will not be a leap year. That's because it is divisible by 100 but not 400, which means it will not be a leap year. This exception to the rule pertains to new century years.

- Forbes reports that it's likely the calendar will need to be changed again since the Earth's rotation rate, the axial tilt orientation and the Earth's orbital motion around the sun is not constant. Various effects, such as earthquakes and something called tidal braking, affect the passage of time.

- Legend states that on Feb. 29 it is alright for a woman to propose to a man, a custom attributed to St. Bridget. Bridget complained to St. Patrick that some women had to wait too long for their suitors to pop the question. As the legend goes, Patrick supposedly provided women this day to propose to compensate.

- Some cultures view Feb. 29 as an unlucky day. In Greece, couples are warned against planning weddings during leap years. In Italy, the phrase, "Anno bisesto, anno funesto" ("leap year, doom year") is uttered.

- Individuals who are born on Feb. 29 are known as leaplings or leapers.

- Leap day is not considered a legal day. Those who are leaplings have to choose Feb. 28 or March 1 for their official and legal birthdays.

- Individuals who are paid fixed monthly incomes often work for free on Feb. 29 because their wages will not be calculated to include the extra day.

- Guinness World Records indicates the only family it could verify as producing three consecutive generations born on leap days belongs to the Keoghs. The elder Patrick Anthony Keogh was born in 1940, his son Peter Eric was born in 1964, and his granddaughter Bethany in 1996.

Fun ways to spend extra leap day hours

The sentiment that there aren't enough hours in the day may be true for busy families and individuals. However, once every four years, everyone is given an extra day on their calendars in February.

Although leap day is designed to move the clock and calendar more in line with the Earth's rotation around the sun, which takes slightly longer than 365 days, it also can be an exciting opportunity to relax and have some fun. The following are some ways to maximize that extra day of the year.

Learn about leaplings

A leapling is a person who was born on Feb. 29 during a leap year. Highlights magazine reports the odds of being a leapling is one in 1,461. Find out if anyone you know is a leapling or research celebrity leaplings.

Celebrate leap day

Even if leap day isn't an official holiday, it is worthy of celebration. Figure out a theme for your party, and then invite friends over for an extra day of revelry or relaxation.

Take the day off

Make the most of leap day by enjoying a mental health day and taking off from work or school, if possible. Spend the day engaged in hobbies or other activities.

Leapin' lizards

Kids may enjoy reading up on or learning about the various animals that are good at leaping, which can include frogs or flying squirrels. Children and adults can take turns doing their own leaping long jumps to see who can leap the farthest.

Calculate your leap year age

Students can practice math and have fun in the process by dividing each person's age by four to determine what age they would be had they been born on a leap day.

Commemorate in fours

Do everything for the day in fours. Enjoy four scoops of ice cream or commit to a four-hour hike. Go out to lunch or dinner with friends and spend four hours finding out everything that has been going on in the lives of others. Watch a movie marathon that adds up to four hours of fantastic cinema.

Leap into community service

Use the extra time for doing good. Figure out where you can volunteer your services and make leap day all about giving back.

Leap day is an opportunity to engage in fun or relaxing activities everyone can enjoy.

What's the purpose behind a leap year?

February is known for many things, one of which is being the shortest month of the year.

Many people do not give much thought to whether or not February has 28 or 29 days. But February bears the unique distinction of being the only month on the calendar that does not always have the same number of days.

Known as a "leap day," the 29th day of February helps to synchronize the calendar to Earth's orbit. According to EarthSky, which reports on astronomy and other cosmos-related information, Earth's orbit around the sun takes approximately 365.25 days.

That extra .25 creates a need for a leap year every four years; otherwise, the calendar, which is faster than the actual solar year, would drift from what is actually occurring with the orbit. After four years, it would be off by one day, or 25 days after 100 years. If no corrections were made to the calendar, the seasons might become misaligned. After 300 years, Jan. 1 would arrive in autumn.

Julius Caesar, at the advice of Sosigenes, an Alexandrian astronomer, was responsible for adding a leap day to February to compensate for Earth's rotation after the original Roman calendar kept slipping out of alignment. During his reign, Caesar first implemented a 445-day calendar year in 46 BCE to bring the calendar back into alignment. Roman officials called it annus confusionis. To limit future headaches, the work-around was to simply add a leap day to February once every four years. The Julian calendar wasn't exact to the solar year, but it was much closer than the previous Roman calendar.

The Gregorian calendar, revised by Pope Gregory XIII in 1582, further adapted the calendar and the leap days. All leap years are divisible by four.

People can utilize the extra day in various fun ways. In addition to learning more about leap years and astronomy, try these entertaining ideas.

- Take a day off of work and spend it relaxing or engaging in a favorite hobby.

- Be reminded that leap years also coincide with U.S. Presidential elections, and it will soon be time to vote.

- Check out the celebrities who were born on Feb. 29 and only get a true birthday every four years. Rapper Ja Rule, motiva-tional speaker Tony Robbins, actor Antonio Sabato Jr., swimmer Jessica Long, and football player Eric Kendricks are some of the notable people born on Feb. 29.

- Buy a gift for yourself or others on leap day and make it a tradition of going the extra mile to love and pamper.

- Realign your life like the calendar is being realigned by focusing on organization or personal finances.

Leap year has arrived, and that extra day can be put to good use in various ways.

Individuals who are born on Feb. 29 are known as leaplings. The chances of being born on a leap day are slim, as estimates suggest there is a one in 1,461 chance of becoming a leapling.

It's widely accepted that a year is 365 days long. However, that statement is not entirely accurate. In fact, it takes Earth a little more than 365 days (365.24223 days to be precise) to orbit the sun. A calendar cannot accommodate that small distinction was a leap year but 1900 was not, according to Royal Museums Greenwich.

This approach is not an entirely foolproof plan since there still may be very small discrepancies in time. Leap seconds have been added to keep time ticking correctly at various points throughout the years. This occurred on Dec. 31 in the years 2005, 2008 and 2012, and also on June 30, 2015.

In terms of adding a day to the calendar for the leap year, it is placed in February, which already is the shortest month. While February is typically 28 days, in leap years the month features 29 days. A leap year next occurs in February 2028, and then again in 2032, 2036 and 2040.

brate your birthday on a day that is not exactly the true anniversary of your birth. However, since Feb. 29 comes around just once every four years, it may mean you can celebrate four times as much to make up for lost time.

every year. In order to ensure that seasons do not start drifting from the difference between the Earth's rotation and the time it takes to get around the sun, leap years were established to keep the calendar more consistent and working like clockwork. The first modern leap year took place in 1752.

Certain guidelines were established to determine which years would be leap years. A leap year typically arrives every four years. However, in terms of end-of-century years, they must be divisible by 400. That is why the year 2000
